NEAR-NEWS AND CHATTER FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

To the lady first correctly guessing the identity of the person of whom the following is a character sketch, and bringing a copy of this paper to the Tribune office, a cash prize of $1.00 will be given. The subject of the sketch is a prominent citizen of La Crosse. After winning one prize, a contestant will not be eligible to again compete for a period of three months.

The subject of last week's "Guess Who's Here" contest was George W. Young, the winner being Miss Mamie Engelhart, 120 South Sixth street.

GUESS WHO'S HERE

The late W. W. Cargill used to say, confidentially, that men like him were worth a million dollars apiece, to the right party. Which foreboding may be taken as an expert valuation of "salve," in the spreading of which this million dollar prodigy is an artist. However, that's not exactly fair; he's just wise enough to be genial and general enough to file the rough edges of the horse sense that makes him really worth while. He was born with callouses on his hands, touching elbows with "the boys," and that's why in these later years during which he is enjoying the prosperity and distinction with which opportunity rewards those who co-ordinate the effort of brawn and brain, he's still one of "the boys" whom the boys like, and so they "get on." He's about medium height and medium thick, with a southern complexion and a Yankee directness, the latter in spite of a French name and French impulses savoring of Canadian birth associated with American frankness. Perhaps he's lucky, and perhaps, on the other hand, it was because somebody else blundered; but anyhow, he stepped out just long enough to give relief to the only real strike, with strikebreakers and incipient riots and police interference, that the town ever had. However, that has no bearing on the main fact, which is that the late W. W. Cargill made a ten-strike when he picked up this fellow who's here because he had the manhood and sand and brains and "the salve."

Look Out Below

If any of you fellows ever find yourselves looking out of the fifth story of a burning hotel with no fire escape in sight, tell you what you do: Tell Ocky Hulberg to send for Factory Inspector Lenhoff.

Did you ever hear of the Irishman who, when he saw his friend leaning from the window of a sizzling hotel, hurled a rope end up to him and shouted:

"The it around yer waist, Mike, till I give yer a jerk!"

Well, Lenhoff has that beat a city block.

It happened right after some gink invented the Painless Fire Escape, the merits of which he demonstrated by dropping from the roof of the McMillan building and,

"Like a sylphine fairy, hither tending to this lower world descending," sinking with the poetry of motion to the sidewalk beneath.

Mr. Lenhoff was impressed, and investigated. The Painless Fire Escape consisted of a very ordinary rope with a very ordinary hook to be caught over the window sill, a belt to be strapped round the body, said belt being attached to said rope by a loose clasp by the tightening or loosening of which, in a hand grasp, the speed of descent could be regulated.

Well, the aforesaid Mr. Lenhoff induced the aforesaid Mr. Hulberg to join with himself, and others, in buying the aforementioned patent, with the surviving result that Mr. Hulberg still possesses enough fire escapes to guarantee his safe delivery from any fiery realm of the hereafter into which a careless guardian angel may permit him to fall.

Incorporation concluded. Mr. Lenhoff took a bundle of the Painless Fire escapes to the state fair at Milwaukee, and on the first day, duly advertised, repaired to the roof of a tall building to demonstrate.

With an intent crowd watching, he adjusted the equipment, and with water he strolled off the roof.

Down he came! Not floating, gyrating, gracefully, but "down ker-flop" like "beautiful Anna Belle Lee." He broke a leg and three ribs, but you bet he stood pat.

"Hurty?" asked an interested bystander.

"Nope," gasped Mr. Lenhoff. "Youse got a bad bump, what broke?" continued the fellow.

"Nothin'," said Lenhoff. "I let her go to show how fast I could get away from a fire."

"Wall," said the stranger. "You made good. I fell outen a fourth story window onct, but I never made no such speed as that."

Lenhoff smiled through clenched teeth, and groaned. And Ocky still has the fire escapes.

W. T. LAFOLLETTE EXPOSES COMBINE OF STANDPATTERS

Declares There Is an "Unholy Alliance" Among Democrat Factions of Wisconsin

AIM TO DEFEAT WILSON

Says Clark, Harmon and Underwood Men Have United for the Interests

DENOUNCES REP. WEISSE

Asserts that He Poses as "Progressive" Only When It Seems Expedient

In a remarkable article signed by William T. La Follette, brother of Senator La Follette, there is exposed an alliance between the Harmon and the Clark factions of standpat democracy in Wisconsin, the purpose of which is to defeat the Wilson delegation at all hazards. Following is Mr. La Follette's letter in full:

(By William T. La Follette.)

The Unholy Alliance in Wisconsin

Who are progressive and who are standpat democrats?

The line of demarcation between these two democratic elements are as easily seen as between the two factions in the republican party.

It is admitted by every reasonable mind that Wh. J. Bryan was and is the advance agent of progressive ideas to meet the new conditions that combined corporations have forced upon the country the past twenty-five years through special privilege legislation granted to them by republican rule, who were nominated and elected by money monopoly.

Many democratic national officials have assisted combined capital in securing friendly laws when the republicans were unable to control all their men in both branches of congress.

That was easily seen when the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was before congress in 1909; that was easily seen when the railroad rate law was before congress in 1905-6; that was easily seen when New York Democrat Fitzgerald offered the outrageous substitute Cannon rules in March, 1909, and twenty-three democrats voted for them. It was also very easily seen last month that standpat republicans and democrats stood together when the Henry progressive resolution was before congress for a thorough examination of the money trust by special committee.

Standpat congressmen, standpat newspaper men, standpat politicians, standpat Wall street and standpat big bankers, were generally hooting the idea that there is any money trust, when every intelligent man knows that the money trust is the father of all trusts and that it badly needs investigation, not by its friends, as the republican party has insisted the tariff should be revised, but by the friends of all the people, who will get to the bottom with the investigation—the progressive men.

Would Probe Money Trust

Mr. Bryan insisted, through speech and pen, that the money trust should be investigated by a special committee, who were given power to go to the bottom with their work. Wall street wanted the banking and currency committee to make the investigation, with Chairman A. Pujo of Louisiana, a standpat democrat at the head, Congressman J. M. Levy of New York, Wall street's democratic worker, has opposed the investigation of all monopolistic trusts, who early in January, said to congress, "It seems to me the entire tendencies of these investigations are destructive."

Six days later, January 9, Mr. Levy of Wall street, appeared before the committee on rules and said, "I move you that the question embraced in the Henry resolution be referred to the committee on banking and currency." On January 26, the money trust investigation was again under consideration and Wall Street Levy appeared before the committee on banking and currency and closed his statement by saying, "We have had enough of these investigations."

In the democratic house caucus which was held late in February, there were 115 democrats voted for the banking and currency committee, and sixty-six democrats voted for a special committee to investigate along the lines recommended by Mr. Bryan. Mr. Clark and Mr. Underwood, democrats, voted with Wall street for the banking and currency committee to make a whitewash investigation and against the Bryan and Wilson investigation. Mr. Wilson said at Pittsburgh last June, "The great monopoly in this country is the money monopoly. It is not plain to the average democrat by this time who are the progressive and who are the standpat candidates for president in 1912."

All over the country, the Harmon, Clark and Underwood democrats are throwing their strength together to defeat a delegation to the national convention favorable to Governor Wilson.

After an all night fight in Oklahoma.

Shot in Side Does Not Wake Sleeper

MINNEAPOLIS, March 9.—The mysterious wounding of Antone Ladley, formerly marshal of St. Bonifacius, Hennepin county, who has a bullet in his right side, received while asleep, is puzzling that village's authorities today.

According to Ladley he awoke at 4 a. m. and felt a sharp pain in his side. The bedclothes were stained with blood, apparently indicating that the wound had been inflicted some hours before. No gun of any kind was found in the house, Mrs. Ladley said she heard no shot fired.

Charles Bruhm, residing nearby, says he heard a shot fired during the night but does not remember at what time.

Ladley is expected to survive.

JUDGE IMPOSES $29,000,000 FINE

Brindley Gives Severe Sentence to Alleged Investigator of Grand Jury

ALL PEACE IN DORMITORY

Spirit of Good Fellowship Follows Trial; Banquet Tickle Appetites of "Y" Boys

All is again peace and serenity in the Y. M. C. A. dormitory community. Following a period of more than a month of turmoil and disturbance during which a grand jury was called to investigate charges and rumors of "conspiracy," "riot," "disruption of the peace," "assault" and other complaints too numerous to mention, the trial, which was held in the "Y" auditorium last night before Judge John Brindley, has settled all grievances leaving a spirit of fellowship and friendliness among the members of the community such as never existed before.

Banquet is Elaborate

The trial followed an elaborate banquet to which nearly forty of the dormitarians devoted themselves with a zeal that was an eloquent testimony to its excellence. By the side of each plate was found the indictment brought by the grand jury against that particular dormitorian. The crimes charged, although ranging from larceny to attempted murder, had but little effect on the appetites of the diners. Whether it was due to the hardened consciences of the alleged criminals or whether the well known kind heartedness of Judge Brindley precluded any fear of serious results is not known, but hilarity was the only emotion evident throughout the evening. Secretary A. C. Gran made a few remarks appropriate to the occasion.

As soon as the table was cleared away, Judge Brindley called the court to order and Prosecuting Attorney Layton Gouldin gave a brief history of the entire case after which he stated the findings of the grand jury and moved for immediate trial of the accused.

Surprise in Case

An unexpected turn was given the case when Attorney Gouldin announced that the grand jury had made a thorough investigation of the rumors and charges and had found them groundless. He stated that the jury had brought but one bona fide indictment and that was against the newspaper man who had caused the publication of the various phases of the case. He declared that the articles had been printed with the purpose of blackening the name of the community and moved that he be tried on the charge of misrepresentation.

MUST PETITION FOR REFERENDUM

Council Decides Against Submitting the Market Question to Vote of the People

MAHONEY OFFERS NEW PLAN

Favors Appropriation for Building of Markets; Marvin Declares "District" Open

A petition, signed by 400 citizens of La Crosse, calling for a referendum vote on the public market question will have to be filed with the city clerk on or before Tuesday, or the question will not be submitted to the judgment of the people at the spring election, April 2.

A bomb was exploded in the pro-market faction of the city council last night when a minority report of the finance and bridge committee was submitted which recommended that the council defeat the resolution on the referendum vote for market buildings. Coming as it did, after the members of the committees had unanimously voted to recommend a referendum vote at their meeting on Tuesday, it took the members of the council by complete surprise. The minority report was adopted by a vote of ten to nine.

Alderman Houska presented a majority report recommending that the matter be settled by a referendum vote calling for a one mill tax to be used for market purposes. As soon as this report was submitted, Alderman Otto Granke presented a minority report signed by himself, Alderman B. Smith and Alderman H. J. Roth.

Aldermen Roellig, Collins, Downs and H. J. Roth spoke against submitting the question to a referendum vote while Aldermen George B. Marvin, Jr., William Torrance and Frank Roth urged the referendum.

Alderman P. W. Mahoney spoke in favor of the council making an appropriation and later introduced a resolution providing for an ordinance to be drafted by the city attorney making rules and regulations to govern the market buildings. If this ordinance is adopted it will mean the provision of market buildings without a referendum.

Opposition to the market and referendum vote was based on the financial condition of the city.

Alderman P. W. Mahoney when speaking on the resolution recently submitted, amending the powers of the board of public works and making the engineer for the proposed well system responsible to the city council alone, said, that a certain city official has threatened to serve an injunction and may do so as soon as the work is started. Alderman Mahoney moved that the report providing for the abolition of the board of public works be referred back to the committee and declared that he favored the abolition of the board unless it expresses its intention of acting in co-operation with the council in carrying through the work of the new well system.

A resolution abolishing the office of side walk inspector was adopted. This position is held by E. W. Ford.

The resolution introduced by Alderman Joseph Houska providing for street car service to all parts of the city until 12 o'clock was referred to the committee on railroads. Mr. Houska declared that this resolution was the result of a petition signed by fifty citizens, presented to him asking that he introduce this resolution.

The following were referred: A communication from the chief of the fire department asking for two new horses; a resolution providing for the purchase of an electrical volt meter; a communication from the board of public works asking that charges be made for testing of meters.

Alderman George B. Marvin declared that the "red light" district is again in full operation and offered to furnish evidence to the chief of police. A motion to refer this to the chief of police and the fire and police commission was overruled and it was finally laid on the table.

Ordinances providing for the office of sealer of weights and measures were adopted, as was the report of the finance and ordinance committee placing the salary at $60 per month.

Alderman Marvin's resolution providing for the raising of drinking fountains and the lengthening of the mouth pieces was placed on file.

Alderman Torrance introduced a resolution for the redemption of bonds of $34,000 by means of interest upon the sinking fund of the city. This was adopted.

The annual report of the board of public works was received and placed on file. A resolution providing for advertisement for bids for street sprinkling was referred.

The council will meet on Monday night when Engineer A. T. Maltby will be present.

INVESTIGATION IS ORDERED

Building Inspector and Coroner Will Probe Alleged Violation of Building Laws

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 9.—In his long heralded speech at the Coliseum last evening President Taft, avoiding all personal reference to Theodore Roosevelt, answered the colonel's Columbus "Charter of Democracy." The president most particularly addressed himself to the recall of judges.

That not more than one-fourth of the citizens of the United States are permitted to vote, and that ours is in fact a government by minorities, representative in the sense that the majority of the voting minority represents all the people; that this is a government the equilibrium of which is maintained by "checks and balances" to control the hasty impulses of those in power; that this system effectuates a just restraint upon the action of the majority of the voting element to preserve the rights of the minority of the voting element and of the public in general—these were the time-honored arguments which the president advanced as a basis for the assertion that either the recall of judges or the recall of judicial decrees is a system calculated to bring national disaster.

A Dangerous Program

"The great body of law," said Mr. Taft, "is unwritten, determined by precedent and founded on eternal principles of right and morality. This the courts have to declare and enforce. As between the individual and the state, as between the majority and the minority, as between the powerful and the weak, financially, socially, politically, courts must hold an even hand, give judgment without fear or favor. In so doing they are performing a governmental function; but it is a complete misunderstanding of our form of government to exalts justice and righteousness to assume that judges are bound to follow the will of the majority of an electorate in respect of the issue for their decision. In many cases before the judges, that temporary majority is a real party to the controversy to be decided. It may be seeking to deprive an individual or a minority of a right secured by the fundamental law. In such a case, if judges were mere representatives or agents of the majority to carry out its will, they would lose their judicial character entirely and the so-called administration of justice would be a farce."

The president admitted abuses such as "judicial legislation," the annulment of good laws by courts at the sacrifice of justice, etc., but he maintained that these cases are so rare that an attempt to remedy them by a method that would rob the courts of their independence and subject them to the influence of the passions and prejudices of the controlling majority of the voting minority of the whole people can in no sense be justified, especially as the controlling majority (a mere faction of the whole people) is frequently to all intents and purposes an interested party to the litigation, having a common selfish interest at stake.

Roosevelt Plan Bad

Dealing with Colonel Roosevelt's suggestion for a recall of decisions, the president said:

"A most serious objection to the recall of decisions is that it destroys all probability of consistency in constitutional interpretation. The majority which sustains one law is not the same majority that comes to consider another, and the obligation of consistency of popular decision is one which would sit most lightly on each recurring electorate, and the operation of the system would result in suspension or application of the law."

LODGING HOUSE FIRE KILLS SIX; FOUR WILL DIE

Two of Dead Are Hunchbacks; Barnett House was Hangout of Professional Mendicants

TWO ARE KILLED JUMPING

Leap from Fourth Story to Pavement Fatal; Panic Ensues when Blaze Breaks Out

INVESTIGATION IS ORDERED

Building Inspector and Coroner Will Probe Alleged Violation of Building Laws

CHICAGO, March 9.—Six men lost their lives in the fire that charred the Barnett house, a ten and fifteen cent lodging house, at Clark and Harrison streets, and the Salvation Army hotel known as the "Evangeline" adjoining it this morning. Seven others are in the hospitals, four of whom it is believed, will die. Fifteen or twenty others were burned or injured in the fire and panic that followed.

Two Killed Jumping

Two of the dead lost their lives by jumping from the upper windows of the four-story buildings. Nearly 200 lodgers were in the two buildings when the flames broke out. They were mostly unemployed workmen, tramps, and crippled beggars, who were unable to help themselves in the fight for life. When the fire was extinguished two men whom the firemen had tried to reach and later gave up for dead were found alive.

At 1:30 Chief Seferlich said he was satisfied there were no more bodies in the building. Scores of men were saved by the heroism of the firemen and occupants of adjoining buildings.

Probe is Ordered

An investigation by the building inspector and the coroner into the cause of the fire and the alleged violation of fire regulations and the building code, has been ordered.

A panic immediately followed the discovery of the fire and before the fire department arrived at the scene men were jumping from the upper stories and crowding each other off the fire escapes. Nearly all of the dead were in bed, and were suffocated before they could get out of the rooms.

The firemen stretched life nets and motioned for those who could be seen at the smoke filled windows of the upper stories to jump. Other firemen attempted to explore the second and third floors. Five women, all unconscious, were carried from the third floor of the Salvation Army building.

On the fourth floor landing, two of a party of three firemen dropped, overcome by the smoke. Their companion pulled them to safety and others took up the fight to rescue the imprisoned lodgers.

A man climbed out of a window and held to the ledge until the flames burned his hands and arms. When he let go and dropped to the sidewalk, his skull was crushed by falling against a sign and he died before assistance could reach him.

Causes Birth

Mrs. Annie Ansell, who lives on the third floor of the building adjoining Barnett's lodging house, who was in a delicate condition, was so frightened by the flames and the panic that she gave birth to a child. Smoke and water drove her and four other women from the building. All became unconscious in the halls and were found by firemen who carried them to safety. Mrs. Ansell was sent to St. Luke's hospital, where it is said she will die. The child also cannot live.

OLD FIRM SUSPENDS

NEW YORK, March 9.—The suspension of the stock exchange firm of Connor & Co., was announced on the exchange today. The firm was established in 1886 and E. S. Connor was the board member.

Old Country GREEN SOAP
Simply Cannot Hurt the Hands

ONE way to wash your scalp is to shave your head. Most hard cake washing soaps work on that principle. If they do clean the fabric they also ruin it. And the stuff in them that ruins the fabric is what plays havoc with your hands—leaves them sore and makes them red and chapped.

It isn't necessary to shave your head in order to wash your scalp. It is even more foolish to "fill" a soap with chemicals that "cut" in order to make it cleanse.

It's the caustic soda and the rosin and the minerals in hard cake soaps that ruin the fabrics and crack your hands. The reason they've been used by American soap-makers is because they didn't know how to combine the right materials. They've never known the right formula. We went to the Old Country for our Chief Chemist—to the one family in the world that could supply us with that one right formula. That is why Genuine Old Country Green Soap is

I do all my own housework and my washing. Too, look at my hands and you wouldn't be live it — they're white and soft, not a crack not a chapped knuckle. And I can't help believing it simply because I use Genuine Old Country Green Soap in all my work.

Best for Every Household Use

Many of you remember the green soft soap that you used in the Old Country. All of you have probably heard of it. Genuine Old Country Green Soap is it.

"Old Country" is nothing but pure vegetable oils made into soap by the best grade of electrolytic potash. Because of its purity it gains in strength.

And the combination of purity with strength is just what makes Genuine Old Country "The Wizard Soap of the World." That is why it is the only ALL-purpose household cleaner. Because of that it is equally as effective with lace curtains as with pots and pans, with polished floors as with kitchen floors and harmless with everything.

You want these statements to prove true. Using is believing. Try Genuine Old Country Green Soap today—your grocer has it. Get at least a 2 lb. can for a test. After that you'll buy it as suits you best in cans or pails up to 25 lbs. 10c the lb. and less.

GIRL ELOPES WITH A MARRIED MAN

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 9.—The disappearance of Miss Nina Nelson, 16 years old, daughter of Mrs. Frank Schmell, 201 Twelfth street, on Tuesday, simultaneously with the departure of a married man of Waterloo, Wis., who was a boarder at the Schmell residence for three months, has caused Mrs. Schmell to employ detectives to search for her daughter.

"I don't see why Nina left home," said Mrs. Schmell Friday afternoon. "She was always a good girl and seemed well satisfied with her home. For a time she wanted to get away from housework and go to a store and I had a woman come to the house and do the work. She was only 16, but would have passed for 18 easily."

PRINTERS HOLD BIG CONVENTION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 9.—"Throughout Wisconsin and northern Michigan the printing trade is in a deplorable condition," asserted W. M. Castle, Oshkosh, in his address at the opening meeting of the convention of master printers at Eiks' hall, Friday morning.

"There is need for radical change," he continued, "for the commercial printer as a business man is slowly bleeding to death. The creator of beautiful representations in paper and ink further other industries by his craft, but makes no money for himself."

"The purpose of our meeting is to form an organization of employing printers, first in the state, to save the printer from himself and to himself. It is the gullible printer that always conjures up the buyer who is trying to fleece him in a job."

DRESBACH, MINN.

Mr. Jacobus Van Scheppen and Miss Clara Capoff were united in marriage at La Crosse Thursday. After the wedding ceremony the couple returned to Dresbach, where a bountiful wedding dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Van Scheppen. Mr. and Mrs. Van Scheppen will make their home in Dresbach for the present.

Proof of Elephant's Sagacity.
Elephants are always quoted as being the most sagacious of animals. A story comes from Bombay, India, of one who saved the life of an artilleryman recently. The man was seated on the tumbrel of one of the guns, and fell off almost under the hind wheel. The elephant was just behind the gun and saw the danger the man was in. He lifted the wheel with his trunk, and kept it held up until the carriage had passed quite clear of the man. The act was witnessed by an officer of the artillery.

POOR WOMAN SEVERELY AFFLICTED

But Troubles Which Caused Her Almost Constant Distress Finally Disappeared Because She Depended on the Right Medicine

Johnson City, Tenn.—"For years, I was a sufferer from headaches," writes Mrs. Lucy Fine, of this place, "and was never entirely relieved of them, until lately."

Now I am feeling well, as a result of having taken Cardui, the woman's tonic.

As soon as I began to take Cardui, I could see the severity of my affliction greatly lessened.

Cardui also helped a stomach derangement which forced me to spit almost constantly.

Since then I have used a bottle of Cardui occasionally, at longer or shorter intervals, and have always been benefited.

That taught me to depend upon it and, for that reason, I will continue to use Cardui whenever it is necessary."

You, too, can depend upon Cardui.

It will do the same for you, as it has done for other ladies.

It will help to make you well and strong, because its ingredients have been proven to have a very special tonic action, on the womanly organs; in fact, no other combination of medicinal ingredients is of known superiority for this kind of trouble.

Trust Cardui. Give it a trial.

Let Cardui show you what it will do for you.

Your druggist sells Cardui.

See him about it, today.

TEACHER ATTEMPTS SUICIDE FOUR TIMES

NEVADA, Iowa, March 9.—Just before he dismissed his school yesterday afternoon, Howard Reitmeyer, a young teacher at Maquoketa, removed his coat and vest, and unbuttoning his shirt, made the children watch him while he killed himself. Falsely the knife he prepared to make the thrust into his breast, when, probably the screaming of some of the little girls made him change his mind.

After the children left he tried to hang himself with a towel, but the towel broke with his weight. Later at the Moore home, where he boards, Reitmeyer was preparing to hang himself in the hay mow, when Moore prevented him. While being brought here this morning he tried to throw himself in front of a Rock Island train, but was dragged from harm's way just in time to prevent his being killed.

He was arraigned before the commissioners of insanity this afternoon and adjudged insane.

TROUT FRY SENT TO CALEDONIA

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 9.—With the ice still solid in lakes and streams, the game and fish commission has started its annual distribution of trout fry, the work proceeding in the southern part of the state regardless of weather conditions. A carload of brook trout fry was sent to Caledonia and Preston yesterday, for distribution. The fry were taken from the St. Paul hatchery, where the following fry are ready for planting:

Brook trout, 3,061,097; brown trout, 163,128; lake trout, 250,000; Chinook salmon, 9,948; landlocked salmon, 10,000. Total, 3,494,173.

In the Glenwood hatchery are 2-291,979 fry ready for distribution.

"As the weather warms," said H. A. Rider, executive agent of the game and fish commission, "the fry will be taken to all parts of the state. All are in good condition."

WILL SPEND TWENTY MILLION IN SEATTLE SOCIALIST PLAN IS UNNECESSARY -- FALK

SEATTLE, Wash., March 9.—Twenty million dollars will be spent in port improvement work in Seattle in the next five years, according to an estimate made by Brigadier General M. Chittenden, United States army, retired, president of the Seattle Port commission. Of that sum $12,500,000 will come from public funds, private enterprises contributing $6,500,000 more.

Of the public funds, $8,100,000 was provided in the bond issues authorized Tuesday; the federal government has authorized $2,275,000; the state $250,000, assessment districts $1,100,000 and the county $1,775,000.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO JUDGE HIGBEE

Declaring it "a privilege and a duty" to give support to the campaign for the re-election of Judge E. C. Higbee to the circuit bench, the Vernon County Censor characterizes the term just closed as one of unusual efficiency.

"The Censor does not believe Judge Higbee is an aspirant by his own desire," says the Censor, "for it is well known that his private practice previous to assuming the bench position greatly exceeded the salary of the office. The learned men of the judicial district, who best knew his qualifications, asked that Mr. Higbee be elevated to the place. Not to give him an endorsement at this time could be interpreted as little less than a direct repudiation of his career on the bench, and there are none who believe that is deserved, for his has been a highly satisfactory service."

"Another thing to consider is the well known fact that, because of the protracted incapacity of Judge Fruit to hold court for many months before his death, the calendars in every county of the circuit were stagnant and congested, that there was sufficient litigation pending when the present incumbent was appointed to occupy the time of the average judge for more than a year. Mr. Higbee's grasp of legal matters and ability to dispatch business cleared the judicial decks in a few weeks, thus saving delays and money to litigants and tax payers. Judge Higbee has been called to nearly every circuit in the state during his brief months on the bench, and it is everywhere conceded that he is a just and upright judge. He is never halting in his decisions, conducts his court with decorum and is certainly

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The melancholy days have come,
The saddest of the year.
Spring fever puts us on the bum
And German bands appear.
No more we blithely sally forth
Our ruby nose to freeze;
No more the blasts from out the north
Our whiskers rudely seize.

All this is gone, and in its place
The while we grimly mutter
We're training for a hurdle race
By leaping o'er the gutter.
The sidewalks soak in sloppy slush,
Our feet are soaking, too.
Anon a snowball in the mush
Turns flesh from pink to blue.

Footling His Father

Mars Cassidy, the official starter for all great race courses, is a man of infinite patience. His three motherless boys have never felt so much as the weight of his finger in parental correction, but his methods of moral suasion are effective. Every body but the victim decided recently that the youngest Cassidy boy, 5 years old, needed a dose of castor oil. "This is for your good, and I don't want to hold your mouth open and pour it down your throat, but you must take it," said dad. The boy glared, took the medicine and then climbed upon the knee of his grand-mother.

"Never mind, gran'ma," he whispered, as she coddled him; "we'll show him. Soon as he goes out I'll frow it up."—Baltimore Sun.

Couldn't Get Out of Politics

A man who enters politics loses his peace of mind, according to a story told by Senator "Bob" Taylor of Tennessee.

"I once knew a man from my part of the country," said Senator Taylor, "who had a nice little farm and was entirely satisfied with life. Some well meaning friends, however, came along and persuaded him to run for the legislature. After a good bit of coaxing they succeeded and he was defeated. Not content he decided that at the next election he would again be a candidate. He was again defeated, and so on for thirty years."

"Finally he became convinced that the people did not want him to represent them in the legislature and he decided to commit suicide."

"Not wishing to make a failure of the job, he bought a rope, some kerosene and a revolver. Then, taking his old boat, he rowed down the river which ran near his farm until he came to a big, overhanging tree. He saturated his clothes with the oil, placed the rope around his neck and tied it to the tree, struck a match on his trousers and kicked away the boat. He then placed the revolver to his head and fired."

"The revolver shot struck his head and glanced off, cutting the rope and letting him fall into the water, which extinguished the blaze. He waded out, and when he found himself intact, concluded that Divine Providence had saved him."

"At the next election he ran on a reform ticket."—Washington Cor. New York World.

No Place for a Washington

Dr. R. J. Campbell, the English Christian-Socialist, was condemning, at a luncheon in Philadelphia, a certain type of modern businessman.

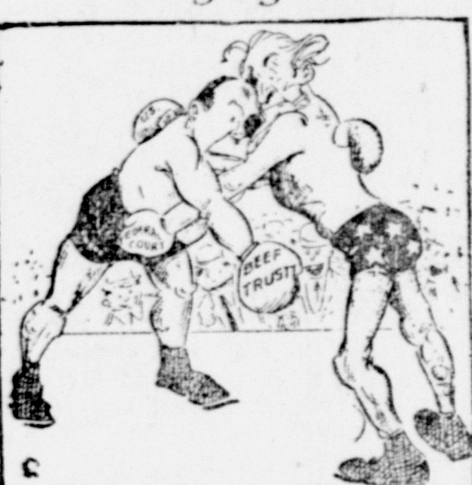

"This type of man," he said, "is precisely opposite to George Washington. Washington got on by telling the truth. This man gets on by lying."

"It reminds me of a story. A very successful businessman took his son into his employ, and the youth, after a few days' work, entered his father's office and said disconsolately:

"'Dad, I'm afraid I shan't make good here. You see, I'm not used to lying.'"

"But the father laughed easily. 'Oh,' he said, 'if you tell the truth in a place like this, everybody will believe you're lying, anyway.'"

Hanging On

You hear a lot nowadays about the law's delays, technical subterfuge and sharp law practice on the part of the big interest delaying Uncle Sam from enforcing justice. But Uncle Sam has the goods and it is only a matter of time before he will win out.

Right will always come to its own sooner or later, and this store furnishes a glowing example of this truth. Every day more and more men are learning the quality and economy benefits to be had here. We have the goods—that's the answer.

THE CARPET FROM BAGDAD

Copyright 1911—The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

The girl was beautiful in her ale, foreign way; beautiful as the star of the morning, as the first rose of the Persian spring; and he sighed for the old days that were no more. She would have brought a sultan's ransom in the markets. But the accursed Feringhi were everywhere, and these sickly if handsome white women were more to them than their heart's blood; why, he had never ceased to wonder. But upon this knowledge he had mapped out his plan of torture in regard to Rynane. The idea of selling Fortune had dimly formed in his mind, while his blood had burned in anger; but today's sobriety showed him the futility of such a procedure. He would have to make the best of a foolish move; for the girl would eventually prove an encumbrance. At any rate, he would wring one white heart till it beat dry in his breast. That her health might be ruined, that she might sicken and die, in no manner aroused his pity. This attribute was destined never to be awakened in Mahomed's breast.

The kiswah, the kiswah, always the Holy Yhordes; that he must have, even if he had to forego the pleasure of breaking Rynane. He was too old to start life anew; at least, too old to stir ambition. He had wielded authority too many years to surrender it lightly; he had known too long his golden-flaked tobacco, his sherbet, his syrupy coffee, the pleasant loafing in the bazaars with his merchant friends. To return to the palace, to confess to the Pasha that his carelessness had lost him the rug, would result either in death or banishment; and so far as he was concerned he had no choice, the one was as bad as the other. So, if the young fool who had bought the rug of Rynane told the truth when he declared that it had been stolen again, then Rynane knew where it was; and he could be made to tell; he, Mahomed, would attend to that. And when Rynane confessed, the girl and the other would be conveyed to the nearest telegraph-post. That they might at once report the abduction to the English authorities did not worry Mahomed. Not the fleetest racing-camel could find him, and behind the walls of the palace of Bagdad, only Allah could touch him. He had figured it all out closely; and he was an admirable strategist in his way. Revenge upon Rynane for the dishonor and humiliation, and the return of the rug; there was nothing more beyond that.

Before George had the opportunity of speaking to Fortune, he was raised from the sand and bodily lifted upon his camel; and by way of passing pleasantry, his hat was jammed down over his eyes. He swore as he pulled up the brim. Swearing was another accomplishment added to the list of transformations. He had a deal to learn yet, but in his present mood he was likely to proceed famously. He readjusted the hat in time to see Rynane unceremoniously dumped into one of the yawning pack-baskets, his arms and legs hanging out, his head lolling against his shoulder, exactly like a marionette, cast aside for the time being. A man of ordinary stamina would have died under such treatment. But Rynane possessed an extraordinary constitution, against which years of periodical dissipation had as yet made no permanent inroads. Moreover, he never forgot to keep his chin up and his waist-line down. They put him into the pack-basket because there was no alternative, being as he was incapable of sitting upon a camel's back.

Next, George saw Fortune, unresisting, placed upon the camel, under canopy. At least, she would know a little comfort against the day's long ride. His heart ached to see her. He called out bravely to her to be of good cheer. She turned and smiled; and he saw only the smile, not the swift, decisive battle against the onset of tears; she smiled, and he was too far away to see the swimming eyes.

A howling of voices, a snapping of the kurbash upon the flanks of the camels, and the caravan was once more under way. George looked at his watch, which fortunately had been overlooked by the thieving natives, and found it still ticking away briskly. It was after nine. It was a comfort to learn that the watch had not been injured. Most men are methodical in the matter of time, no matter how desultory they may be in other things. There is a peculiar restfulness in knowing what the hour is, whether it passes quickly or whether it drags.

Further investigation revealed that his letter of credit was undisturbed and that he was the proud possessor of six damaged cigars and a box of cigarettes. Instantly the thought of being days without tobacco smote him almost poignantly. He was an inveterate smoker, and the fact that the supply was so pitifully small gave unusual zest to his craving. He wooed upon his lips, but he held out manfully. He would not touch a cigar or cigarette till nightfall, and then he made up his mind to smoke

The caravan came to it under the dim light of the few stars that had not yet attained their refugeance. Under the palms were a few deserted mud-houses, huddled dejectedly together, like outcasts seeking the nearness rather than the companionship of their co-unfortunates. Men had dwelt here once upon a time, but the plague had doubtless counted them out, one by one. They made camp near the well, which still contained water.

PUBLIC DEBATE

THE SEALER'S DUTIES

The sealer at La Crosse will have over 300 scales to test, try and ascertain if they are correct. He is required to test and seal thousands of milk bottles, wet and dry measures.

He has the right to enter any establishment or stop any vender, peddler, junk dealer, coal wagon or ice wagon for the purpose of making proper tests.

He shall see that all meters used in selling or buying electricity, gas, water or steam are in perfect working order.

If any sealer fails to perform any duty imposed by law or shall seal any scale or measure which shall not have been tried, proved and sealed as prescribed by law, he shall forfeit for each offense $10.

The sealer has the power of arrest with or without formal warrant.

The two greatest evils derived from the use of scales or weighing devices are: The use of incorrect apparatus and the incorrect use of correct apparatus. These two errors cost the public and merchant hundreds of dollars yearly.

It is not logical to think that the sealer has no work to do or that he does not even earn his salary. This is the impression that some city officials have.

The fact is that, in a city like La Crosse, the sealer will have his hands full, that is if he performs his duty. The testing and sealing of weighing devices and measures is only a small part of his work. He should see that all scales and measures are used correctly at all times. He should answer complaints of citizens and make frequent secret investigations.

It would be ridiculous to test all the scales and measures just once a

WILL GIVE $500 TO SICK OF LA CROSSE AND VICINITY

Indiana Scientist Who Originated the Now Famous "Home Treatment" Offers $1.00 Treatment Free to Sick and Ailing

In order that every reader of The Tribune who needs treatment may have an opportunity to test this celebrated medicine, the now famous Indiana scientist has come to the front with an offer to give absolutely free a full size $1.00 package to five hundred persons to prove the wonderful claims which have been made for it. In making this offer the scientist said: "I know that there are many people who have been suffering for years with some chronic disease and many of them have spent large sums of money seeking a cure. I know that these people hesitate about investing money in medicine because they have despaired of ever getting well. Thousands have told me that story and many thousands of the same people have told me afterwards that my treatment had cured them after doctors and everything else had failed. I want to show these despairing people that all the newspaper talk about my treatment is absolutely true. I want to prove to a limited number—no matter what the disease, no matter how long they may have suffered, no matter how blue and discouraged—that my treatment really and actually does accomplish the wonderful results that have been reported."

People who suffer from Rheumatism, Kidney Trouble, Stomach Trouble, Liver or Bowel Disorders, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Chronic Coughs, Weak Lungs, Lumbago, Piles, Urinary Disorders, Female Weaknesses of any kind, the weak, worn out, broken-down and dependent will be delighted at the effect of a few doses. This wonderful treatment creates a fine appetite and helps the digestive organs to carry on their functions as they should. It strengthens the kidneys, too, and drives rheumatism poisons from the blood as if by magic. That is why people who try it become so enthusiastic.

Any reader of The Tribune who will try this extraordinary medicine that has created so much excitement by its cures can obtain absolutely free a full $1.00 treatment by simply filling in the coupon below or writing a letter describing their case in their own words, if they prefer, and mailing it today to James W. Kidd, Fort Wayne, Indiana. No money need be sent and no charge of any kind will be made.

As this offer is limited, you should write at once, in order to be sure to receive your free treatment.

OLGA CASPERSON IS FAREWELL HOSTESS

Miss Olga Casperson, 1507 Loomis street, entertained at a farewell party last evening, complimentary to Miss Lillian Finney of Arkdale, Minn. The evening was spent in music, card playing and games. An elaborate supper was served at a late hour.

Those present were Misses Lillian Finney, Avis Evans, Edna Evans, Lillian Leser, Grace Taylor, Mabel Dulapp, Lillian Lillian Blystead, Bessie Larsen, Mammie Kerrigan, Floy Robinson, Dora Molor and Olga Casperson; Messrs. Robert Brown, Jack Fitzpatrick, Clyde Nelson, Joe Davidson, Thorvald Casperson, Guy Parker, Walter Asselin, Frank Haiden, I. Marking, Harry Pares and John Gaven.

Nineteen Miles a Second without a jar, shock or disturbance, is the awful speed of our earth through space. We wonder at such ease of nature's movement, and so do those who take Dr. King's New Life Pills. No gripping, no distress, just thorough work that brings good health and fine feelings. 25c at O. T. Erhart.

Ability Must Be Paid For. There is an old saying that the gods sell us all the good they give us. The man of the most ability does not have it bestowed upon him without a price, and that price is self-control—a thing to be worked for laboriously, but which obtained is the first of faculties.

It Doesn't Help. It is a mistake for the man who gets up in the morning with a bad taste in his mouth to attempt to get rid of it by quarrelling with his wife or whipping the children.

LITTLE DEFEATED BY IOWA WRESTLER

Bob Friedrich of Lansing, Iowa, defeated Jack Little, Milwaukee, in two straight falls in thirty-one minutes and twenty-two minutes respectively in their wrestling match at Lansing Thursday evening. Friedrich got the first fall with a head lock after thirty-one minutes of wrestling while he gained the second fall in twenty-two minutes with a double arm lock.

The match was one of the best seen in Lansing for some time and a crowd of about 400 saw the bout. Friedrich, who weighs 210 pounds, gave a great exhibition of wrestling as did also his opponent, who weighs 155 pounds. Although outwrestled Little put up a great battle but Friedrich won out in straight falls. J. P. Moore of North La Crosse refereed the match.

Friedrich is now planning several bouts which give every indication of being excellent matches as he will meet either Al Abel of Madison or Manley Pecoy, Cresco, Iowa, at Lansing, Iowa, soon.

Glorious News. Dwight, Kan. He writes: "I not only have cured bad cases of eczema in my patients with Electric Bitters, but also cured myself by them of the same disease. I feel sure they will benefit any case of eczema." This shows that thousands have proved that Electric Bitters is a most effective blood purifier. Its an excellent remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Price 50 cts. Satisfaction guaranteed by O. T. Erhart.

NORTH SIDERS HURT IN WRECK

Engineer Smith and Fireman Bond Have Legs Broken in Crash Near St. Paul

Two north side men, J. E. Smith, engineer and H. A. Bond, firemen, sustained broken legs last night when an extra north bound freight train on the C. B. & Q. railroad jumped the track near St. Paul. It is thought that a broken or defective rail caused the wreck in which some damage was done the cars and the two local men received their injuries. Further particulars of the wreck have not been received.

The wreck occurred at Lewport, Minn., at 3:45 this morning. The southbound train ran into a broken rail and was derailed. Both men had their left legs broken. There were no casualties.

A fine match is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon when the Painters, champions of the Commercial Bowling league, are to meet Elmer Yehle's Colts, a picked team which has bowled a great game this year. This promises to be one of the most interesting games of the year, as both teams have some of the best bowlers playing with them and for this reason the scores will undoubtedly all be close. The Painters have easily won the pennant in the Commercial league and during the entire season they have been beaten but seven times while the Colts have bowled some great games up to date. The teams will line up as follows:

Colts—E. Yehle, captain; Bollrud, Wittenberg, Freng and Hayes.

Painters—Voves, captain; Verkot, Poehling, Paulson, Hauser and Mekvold.

NO INDIGESTION OR SOUR STOMACH

Heartburn, Gas, Sourness and Dyspepsia ended in five minutes with Pape's Diapepsin

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Catarrh of Stomach; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and let you eat one 22-grain Triangule and see if within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become affected with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, griping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, sick headache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is fickle and nothing tempts you, or you belch gas, or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food lies like a lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapepsin.

construction of St. Mark's Campanile, the first stone of which edifice he had blessed. Before long, probably in April, the new Campanile will be inaugurated. At that time, the splendid bells will peal out a hymn of jubilation.

These bells were given by the people, who dearly loved to hear them ring. Plus X has now ordered that, when these bells rung for the first time from the new Campanile, their rich tones shall be registered on the disk of a gramophone, so that, soon afterward, he may be able to hear the glorious sound repeated in his own apartments in Rome.

"I do not wish to die," said the Pope one day, "without having heard once more the sound of my St. Mark bells. I will hear them ring in my own apartments; I will close my eyes and can imagine through their sound that I am still in my Venice."

CHURCH NEWS

Changes Seem Likely What is regarded as significant, as indicating possible changes in Methodist bishops and their work, is a statement just made in debate by the Rev. Dr. James Buckley, for many years chairman of the committee on Episcopacy of the Methodist General Conference North. This conference meets in Minneapolis in May, and one of many big questions to come up in it is this one of bishops. The Rev. Edgar Blake, an educational secretary in the Methodist church, made drastic statements at the meeting attended by the Rev. Dr. Buckley, to which the latter replied that unquestionably something must be done. It is this admission by a conservative and official leader that gives courage to Methodist insurgents on the episcopal situation.

The statement by Secretary Blake, to which Chairman Buckley agreed in effect, was that bishops ordained for service at large, and given jurisdiction that overlaps and ends nowhere, as he says is the case with Methodist bishops at present, "is impossible and impracticable." The contention at Minneapolis, coming chiefly from laymen but agreed already by a large number of ministers, is that there must be a great increase in that number of Methodist bishops, and that they must be assigned to definite fields, either permanently or for periods of four or eight years, or during successful service, as in the cases of pastors.

Book Concerns Merged The Methodist Book Committee, in annual session just held, perfected the merger of the Book Concerns whose headquarters are in Cincinnati and New York. The members of the committee themselves became directors of the new legal corporation.

A chapter to be offered at the General Conference in Minneapolis in May, and to go into Methodist Book of Discipline, was drawn up for the governance of the concern, its book agents and its branches in Boston, Philadelphia, St. Louis and some other cities.

The Pope to Hear His Bells Pope Pius X has always retained his deep affection for "his Venice," and interests himself in everything which concerns that city. The Pope has followed with the deepest attention the different phases of the re-

Smoke of Herbs Cures Catarrh A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way and it Costs Nothing to Try

This preparation of herbs, leaves, flowers and berries (containing no tobacco or habit-forming drugs) is either smoked in an ordinary clean pipe or smoking tube, and by drawing the medicated smoke into the mouth and inhaling into the lungs or sending it out through the nostrils in a perfectly natural way, the worst case of Catarrh can be eradicated.

It is not unpleasant to use, and at the same time it is entirely harmless, and can be used by man, woman or child.

Just as Catarrh is contracted by breathing cold or dust and germ-laden air, just so this balsamic antiseptic, smoking remedy goes to all the affected parts of the air passages of the head, nose, throat and lungs. It can readily be seen why the ordinary treatments, such as sprays, ointments, salves, liquid or tablet medicines fail—they do not and cannot reach all the affected parts.

If you have catarrh of the nose, throat or lungs, choking, stopped-up feeling, colds, catarrhal headaches, if you are given to hawking and spitting, this simple yet scientific treatment should cure you.

An illustrated book which goes thoroughly into the whole question of the cause, cure and prevention of catarrh will, upon request, be sent you by Dr. J. W. Blosser, 186 Walton street, Atlanta, Ga.

He will, also, mail you five days' free treatment. You will at once see that it is a wonderful remedy, and as can readily be seen by the regular treatment. It is not necessary to send any money—simply send your name and address and the booklet and free trial package will be mailed you immediately.

SOCIETY

HONOR OUT OF TOWN GUESTS

Although in the midst of the Lenten season many pleasant little companies have been given in honor of out of town guests, or those about to leave the city. Among those who entertained were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Van Auker entertained at a dinner in honor of Mrs. Alfred H. Anderson of Seattle. Covers were laid for sixteen at a handsomely appointed table. The invited guests were Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Colman, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Spence, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Egbert, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Farnam, Judge and Mrs. John Brindley, Mrs. W. B. Webb of Colorado and Mrs. Jessie Holway.

Mrs. S. W. Anderson entertained at an informal "at home" Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Alfred Anderson. She again entertained this afternoon for Mrs. Anderson.

MRS. ORLANDO HEGGE GUEST OF HONOR AT SEVERAL FUNCTIONS

Mrs. Oscar Klarnud entertained at bridge and dinner Monday in honor of Mrs. Orlando Hegge, who is soon to leave for the far west, where her husband has gone into business. The prizes were taken by Mrs. Oscar Klarnud and Mrs. J. D. Hengstler. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hengstler entertained at a dinner followed by cards in honor of Mrs. Hegge.

Mrs. J. Harry Miller entertained at a dinner also for Mrs. Hegge. Covers were laid for eight.

Mr. and Mrs. Hegge entertained at a dinner of fourteen covers a farewell to a few of their friends before their departure to their new home.

BRIDGE

Mrs. C. S. Cone entertained at bridge, followed by a tea, Friday. The prizes were taken by Mrs. J. J. Abblet and Mrs. William Hellfach.

VISITS AT OLD HOME

Mr. P. F. Keefe who was visiting at the home of his cousin, Mrs. M. McNamara, 210 Caledonia street, left for a visit at his old home in Caledonia, Minnesota, before returning to his home in Seattle, Wash. Mr. Keefe is on his way home from New York.

LINCOLN-DOUGLAS DEBATE

When the sound of the gavel called the Lincoln-Douglas Debating society to order last night, one of the largest crowds in its history assembled in the room and taxed its seating capacity to its utmost.

Louis Cunningham was elected secretary pro tem, and while he chose the jury for the debate, the society and its visitors were entertained with a reading by Walter Selbo.

The debate for the evening, "Resolved, that the state of Wisconsin grant full rights of suffrage to women," proved one of the most hard-fought of the season. Leland Mahoney and Kingston Welschberger defended woman's rights to the ballot, while Glen Hallik and Julius Bloom, opposed them. Mr. Hallik handled the rebuttal for the negative. Although Mr. Mahoney rendered a most able rebuttal, William Gates, John Beranek and Raymond Mabie, who composed the jury, decided by a vote of 2 to 1 that the negative had won.

Even though the formal debate had been an excellent one, the society and its visiting friends were destined to hear one of the best informal debates that the Lincoln-Douglas can boast of. Mr. Euler in opposition to almost the entire society, fought woman's suffrage and nearly controlled the vote of the jurors. The meeting was also made interesting by the interest shown on the part of the visitors, some of whom arose and took part in the contest. A group of visitors, who sat in the rear of the room, also made things lively with their inspiring applause, they being interested and local leaders in the fight for woman's rights.

In closing the session, the society decided to debate "Socialism" on Friday night, March 23.

20TH CENTURY CLUB

The Twentieth Century club will hold its regular meeting Tuesday, March 13th at the home of Mrs. Frank Winter, 1625 Madison street. The ladies entertaining are Mrs. John J. Esch and Mrs. Frank Winter. The lesson will be in charge of Mrs. C. W. Noble. The subject will be French Dramatists: Sardou, Rostand, Coppee, Hervieu, "Chanticleer," "L'Algon," "Cyrano de Bergerac." New plays, Mrs. E. A. Gatterdam.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Krenz announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Laura Krenz, to Philip Schnell, Jr.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

The Ladies' society of St. Paul's Universalist church will serve supper Thursday evening, March 14, at the church parlors. The hostesses will be Mrs. O. A. Hunt, Mrs. M. E. Mosher, Mrs. Henry Vincent, Mrs. William Woodcock, Mrs. A. H. Hill, Mrs. Emma Trenwith and Mrs. L. H. Moulton.

The Wednesday afternoon card club was entertained this week by Mrs. Ori J. Sorensen. The prizes were taken by Mrs. Frank Viets, Mrs.

What is Chiropractic

(Pronounced Kiro-prak-tik)

Chiropractic is the Common Sense Science of Adjusting the Human Machine. It is radically different from any science of medicine, or of healing by any means. It is the mechanical science of adjustment which does not waste time attempting to doctor or amputate effects—it immediately locates the cause and adjusts it forthwith, just as the skilled mechanic locates the loose pin or tight bearing in the machine and makes the adjustment which sets it running smoothly.

The Chiropractor knows that for every disease there is a cause. It is a recognized fact (even if not taught by medical colleges) that when any part of the human body receives its full share of mental force it will continue to be perfectly healthy. Stop that flow of life-giving mental force and that part of the body becomes weakened and a prey to disease.

There is only one place where any serious interruption of the flow of mental force can occur—where the nerves branch from and leave the spinal cord through openings between the vertebrae. If one or more vertebrae slip or turn out of the correct position—which they can easily do—the openings are choked and the nerve is squeezed until only a part, or as in paralysis, none of the mental force is allowed to pass. This is the cause. The result—weakened organs, working poorly, disease.

The graduate Chiropractor in your city has learned how to locate improperly placed vertebrae. He has studied the thousands of X-ray photos which we have made of spines—which show less than five in one hundred in perfect adjustment—and has learned under the personal supervision of the developer of Chiropractic just how, quickly and surely, to adjust the vertebrae to give a clear track to the progress of the life-giving, life-sustaining mental force. He locates and adjusts the cause—nature does the rest.

It is the Science of Common Sense Applied to the Human Machine

STORE HAS NEW SUPERINTENDENT

J. R. Robertson Takes Charge of Affairs at the Park Store; Well Known Here

J. R. Robertson, until recently a member of the firm of Komiss-Robertson took up his duties today as superintendent of William Doerflinger's Park store. He takes the place made vacant by the resignation of J. C. Toeller last spring. Mr. Robertson has had more than twenty-five years' experience as a department store manager and is considered one of the most efficient men in his line of business in the north-west.

Mr. Robertson measures up to the big task he has undertaken. He is superintendent over twenty departments in the mammoth store and is responsible for the 152 employees of the institution. A Scotchman by birth, he came to America when a boy of nineteen. When he arrived in Buffalo, N. Y., he was within five dollars of being broke, but having experience as an apprentice in Dundee, Scotland, he was able to obtain a job in a department store the same day he arrived. The story of his life from that time is one of steady advancement.

After several years employment in Buffalo, he decided to go west. He took a position as manager of The Fair, one of the largest stores in Davenport, Iowa. He held that position for four years and then came to La Crosse and entered into a partnership with D. S. Komiss. Upon the dissolving of this partnership he accepted Mr. Doerflinger's offer of the position in the Park Store.

In his two years' residence in La Crosse, Mr. Robertson has made many friends and has become known as a hustling and capable business man. His wife and little daughter are also well and favorably known in the social circles of the city. They reside at 1003 Cameron avenue, which street was favored by Mr. Robertson. It is said, because it enjoys the distinction of being the only thistle in this German city.

NO HARMONY IN WOODMEN CAMP

Insurgent Leaders Deny
Statement Made by
Keeler that Majority
Favor Raise

The two factions of the Modern Woodmen of America in La Crosse county are today no nearer amicable agreement on the question of the raise in rates passed by the Chicago convention. Last night's meeting of the county camps in Linker hall, a stormy and turbulent one, developed no vote either for or against the proposition.

Two hundred and fifty Woodmen of La Crosse county attended the meeting last night, and listened to reports and speeches by A. A. Merrill, delegate to the insurgent convention at Minneapolis; W. F. Wolfe, delegate to the Chicago convention which fixed the new rates; B. F. Keeler, state organizer, and Frank Winter.

Contradicts Keeler
In a statement given to the press by Mr. Keeler he declares that the meeting resulted in convincing many of the members protesting that the new rates are just and necessary.

This is denied flatly by the insurgents today. They declare that the general sentiment of the order would have been shown by a nine to one vote of protest against the action of the convention had the matter been allowed to go to a vote.

They declare that the officers in charge of the meeting carefully avoided putting the matter to a vote, realizing the outcome would be unfavorable.

JUDGE IMPOSES $29,000,000 FINE

Judge Brindley ordered that the trial begin.

Pleading not guilty the accused was placed on the stand, having first been sworn in three languages by Clerk of Court Fred Ehrman. Theodore Ubbelohde acted as attorney for the defense and bitterly fought the case to the finish. After an hour of examination and cross examination, during which several witnesses were called, the attorneys summed up the case. Prosecuting Attorney Gouldin was bitter in his denunciation of what he termed the libeling of innocent citizens and urged that the defendant be given the severest sentence within the jurisdiction of the court.

Plea for Clemency
He was followed by a plea for clemency by the attorney for the defense who declared that the accused was actuated only by a desire to bring about better conditions. Both sides then rested.

After a brief questioning of the accused, Judge Brindley said, "I shall have to find you guilty. The evidence which has been introduced indicated that you have violated the provisions of the Sherman Anti-trust law, in that you are employed by a syndicate newspaper as whose willing and conscienceless tool you have maligned citizens whose liberal subsidization of our duly constituted authorities entitles them to immunity both from the penal law and your impertinent frankness. Your offense is as serious as that of the Standard Oil trust in the Indiana case and I believe that your fine should be accordingly as great."

"I fine you $29,000,000 and costs. Furthermore, I realize that a fine in cases of this sort is not punishment in accordance with the seriousness of the offense especially to the opulent class of cub reporters, and I will impose further penalties upon you. You shall abstain from the use of cosmetics for a period of three weeks. You shall forgo the eating of sausage for six months and certain other penalties which I shall acquaint you with in the near future."

"I hope that this trial has been productive of good to the community and that no reflections will be cast on the dormitories in the future. I declare this court closed."

A vote of thanks was extended Judge Brindley for his interest and justice during the agitation and trial.

E. K. Allard was unanimously voted the prize "Banquetier" of the occasion. Having missed his dinner on account of a late train, it required the united efforts of two waiters to keep him supplied with "eats." He stopped only when threatened with a fine for contempt of court by the judge.

homa February 23, with a Harmon man chairman of the convention, the Clark and Underwood delegates were able to get ten delegates, and ten were named for Governor Wilson, under Senator Gore's leadership.

Here in Wisconsin there is a complete fusion of Harmon, Clark and Underwood leaders. Last December somebody sent C. C. Allen of Chicago to Madison to open up headquarters for Harmon, which have been maintained ever since. After canvassing the state until about February 1, it was found that there was very little Harmon sentiment in the state and the same Harmon leaders began to talk Clark among the standpat democrats. About the third week in February ex-Congressman Chas. H. Weiss returned from Washington and opened up Clark headquarters in Milwaukee with a ground wire laid to the Harmon headquarters at Madison.

One Set of Delegates
It was soon agreed between Weiss and Allen that there should be one set of delegates put in the field against Governor Wilson, but they must be carefully selected so there would be none put on the delegation who would not support either Harmon, Clark or Underwood as seemed the most expedient when the convention meets in Baltimore next June.

It was decided the safest way to select the Clark-Harmon delegates, was to keep well away from a public gathering of democrats and let one man name the delegation. It was decided that ex-Congressman Weiss, Clark's manager, should name the delegates and to start with he chose two strong Harmon boomers, ex-Governor George W. Peck and W. F. Pierstorff of Middleton, chairman of the Dane county board. Mr. Weiss then named J. M. Callahan of Milwaukee and ex-Congressman J. W. Murphy of Platteville to complete the four delegates at large. With his long distance phone Mr. Weiss then chose the other twenty-two democratic district delegates to represent Clark and Harmon.

On Friday, February 23, Mr. Pierstorff informed the Madison State Journal over the phone from Middleton that "I have consented to act as a delegate if elected. I was telephoned to from Milwaukee asking if I would serve and I agreed to. I was told there was an understanding between the supporters of Clark and Harmon, and with that understanding I agreed to become a candidate for delegate."

Weisse Poses as Progressive
Mr. Weiss is posing as a progressive democrat and selecting the entire democratic delegation for the national convention by phone without a public conference of democrats, which is the most standpat democracy we have seen in this country during the twentieth century. The facts are, however, that Mr. Weiss is not a progressive only when it is expedient to be one.

When they were trying to get rid of the Cannon rules in congress, March 16, 1909, then Congressman Weiss voted to sustain Cannon. When Fitzgerald of N. Y. offered the subterfuge resolution of same date to help Cannon rule the house, Weiss and twenty-three other democrats voted with the standpat republican Cannon supporters; July 31, 1909, when the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was voted on Weiss was absent; January 7, 1910, when effort was made to have the house appoint the Ballinger committee instead of allowing Speaker Cannon to name a "whitewash" committee, Weiss was absent; January 7, 1910, when standpat Dalzell of Pennsylvania offered a resolution to cut off all amendments to the postal savings bank bill and limit debate, Weiss was absent.

Now we find Mr. Weiss saying that he is a Bryan progressive democrat and himself naming an entire state delegation of democrats, part for Harmon, part for Clark, part for Underwood or any other man that big business may want.

Mr. Bryan's paper of March 1 says, "It is true that Mr. Clark's managers are seeking an alliance with the Harmon forces wherever necessary to defeat Wilson supporters they should be reminded of the risk they run. It always excites suspicion, therefore, when standpaters begin to flock to one who is running as a progressive."

Mr. Taft thought that where the constitution, as interpreted by the courts, is unsatisfactory to the people, the present remedy of constitutional amendment is proper and sufficient.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Declaring that he is a progressive along the lines laid down by the constitution, President Taft today opened his strenuous day in Chicago with an address to the students at Armour Institute, shortly before noon.

The president said he does not take up new things, just because they are new. He wants to know the good in them before he is willing to give them his support, he said.

TWO WOMEN ESCAPE RUNAWAY HORSES

Pedestrians on Main and Fourth street were given a fright this afternoon when a runaway team narrowly missed running down two women who were crossing Fourth street. The team had become frightened when standing on the street near the postoffice and also came within a few inches of colliding with a North side car that was making the turn at the corner. The runaways went down Fourth street at a breakneck pace, making the turn up Jay at Market square. They were stopped at Jay and Fifth street. Only the front wheels remained of the farmer's wagon when the team was cornered. Nobody was injured.

750,000 JOBLESS THROUGH STRIKE

British Industries Are Still Closing Down; Number of Idle to Be Doubled
in a Week

LONDON, March 9.—According to figures received at the home office today, 750,000 men have been thrown out of work since the beginning of the miners strike. The industries are closing down daily and it was estimated today that the number of unemployed would be doubled within a week.

Premier Asquith still remained optimistic over the situation today and the feeling was general in financial circles that a peaceful settlement would soon be agreed upon. Operators and miners have accepted an invitation to hold a conference at the home office.

The navy has been ordered to observe the strictest economy in the use of coal. Publishers are also alarmed. It was reported today that several of the big dailies will cut down the size of their editions.

Chinese Salutation.

The Chinese salutation consists of clapping the left hand with the right and waving it up and down, at the same time bowing deeply; or, if unusual respect is wished to be evinced, the Chinaman bows as low as is possible, swinging his clasped hands backwards and forwards.

Strong Ones.

"My dear, these are excellent cigars, but they are awfully strong." "Yes; I got the strongest I could find. They won't break so easily in your pocket."—Judge.

Much and Little.

"I would like," said a book agent to a busy editor, "to call your attention to a little work that I have here." "Yes," replied the editor. "Well, let me call your attention to a whole lot of work that I have here."—Literary Digest.

What a saving it would be if wom-men could wear wrappers that come around soap.

If a girl has a figure like a clothes-pin she imagines she is slender and graceful.

Women are naturally charitable.
They would much rather share a secret with others than keep it.

ACCEPT AMUNDSEN AS POLE FINDER

English Geographers Admit the Chances Are Good that Norwegian Beat
Scott to It

BRITON FOUND EMPTY TENT

Believed that Abandoned
Camp and Norwegian
Flag Were Found by Scott Reaching Goal

LONDON, March 9.—England is hoping against hope today that Captain Scott had reached the south pole. Everywhere, Captain Roald Amundsen is acclaimed as the real conqueror of the Antarctic ice fields and his story is accepted as reliable. There is only the barest of chances that Scott got there first; in fact men like Sir Ernest Shackleton and others of the Geographical Society, after studying Amundsen's narrative, say it was absolutely impossible for Scott to have reached the "big nail" before his Norwegian rival, and the best hope now is that Scott was also successful.

The naming of the great plateau in the majestic loneliness in which the pole was located by the Norwegian's "King Haaken plateau" has aroused an undercurrent of resentment here, where it is pointed out this same land was named after the late King Edward by Shackleton, who penetrated to its beginning.

That Scott probably discovered the empty Norwegian tent, with the flag of Norway flying, abandoned in the limitless wastes of ice and snow, at the uppermost end of the earth when he reached his long coveted goal is considered nearly certain today. All that could then be done by him, of course would be to plant his own flag; secure his observations and start back.

All of the geographical discoveries reported by Amundsen are said by the experts here to be of the utmost importance. The value of the Norwegian's discoveries, Shackleton says cannot be over-estimated.

MAJESTIC STAR A PRIMA DONNA

Miss Mary Quive, who with Paul McCarthy heads the bill at the Majestic, starting Sunday, is a sister of Miss Grace Van Studdiford, the famous actress. Miss Quive has been in the legitimate herself, and has played in La Crosse before. Her first appearance here was as prima donna with the Madame Sherry company. She has also appeared here in the leading role in "Woodland." Previous to her appearance in La Crosse Miss Quive was playing the leading role in Louisiana Lou at the La Salle theater, Chicago. Mr. McCarthy played a juvenile role in the same production.

The other acts on the first half week bill are George Hillman as the "German Chauffeur," Kallinonki Brothers, acrobats, and Grace Wilson, singer.

IF WE WERE GIVING MONEY AWAY

It is safe to say there would be a riot. We are giving bargains that mean almost as much as if we were giving money away. Spring cleaning is nearly here, and careful housewives will look over this list carefully for something to "brighten up" on.

The only thing reserved that we are not allowed to cut the price on is the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet and the Way Sagless Spring.

2 DIE ON CROSSINGS

RACINE, Wis., March 9.—Grade crossings are blamed for two fatal accidents this morning. Fred Winters, 66, a former section hand, was found dead beside the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul tracks in Franksville, with his neck broken. Nels Jorgensen, 52, a contractor of this city, was run down by a passenger train on the Northwestern road as he stepped out of the way of a freight train on the other track and suffered a fractured skull from which he died enroute to the hospital.

SPEEDY END OF STRIKE PREDICTED

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 8.—A speedy settlement of the strike of the textile workers was predicted by both sides here yesterday afternoon. It was learned that a compromise agreement devised by persons interested in bringing both sides together has been completed. It is understood both operators and operatives are satisfied with the main points. While not provided for the complete demands of the strikers, the plan gives the poorest paid workers substantial increases and slight increases to the skilled workers. It also provides for a modified system of operation of the mills to cover the demands of the strikers that "the speed up" system be abolished.

BREAKING OUT COVERED BODY

Where Scratched It Made Sores. Terrible Itching and Burning Kept Her from Sleeping. Cuticura Remedies Completely Cured Her. No Return.

"Three years ago this winter I had a breaking out that covered my whole body. It itched so it seemed as if I should go crazy. It first came out in little pimples on my back and spread till it covered my whole body and limbs down to my knees, also my arms down to my elbows. Where I scratched, it made sores, and the terrible itching and burning kept me from sleeping. I tried several remedies all to no purpose. Then I concluded to try the Cuticura Remedies. I used the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, also the Resolvent, for about four months, and they completely cured me of eczema. I have had no return of the disease since. I never had a good night's rest after the skin eruption first broke out till I commenced using the Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I had only used them a few days before I could see they were beginning to heal, and the terrible itching was gone."

"Those that lived in the house at the time know how I suffered, and how the Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me. I never take a bath without using the Cuticura Soap, and I do not believe there are better remedies for any skin disease than the Cuticura Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Miss Sarah Calkins, Waukegan, Ill., Mar. 16, 1911.
Cuticura Soap and Ointment are for sale throughout the world, but to those who have suffered much, lost hope and are without faith in any treatment, a liberal sample of each together with 32-p. booklet on the care and treatment of the skin and scalp will be mailed free, on application. BURLINGTON WILL LAY DOUBLE TRACK

MADISON, Wis., March 9.—An order was issued by the state railroad commission on Friday authorizing the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway company to double track its right of way from Blake, Grant county to Stoddard, Vernon county. The Northwestern road has been directed by the commission to build a new station at Lohrville, Waushara county.

ICEBREAK AT HUNTER BRIDGE IS DELAYED

Owing to the fact that there was a delay in the filling out of the contract, the Western Construction company will not build the ice-break at Hunter's bridge this winter. A temporary guard will be put up in time to protect the bridge this spring and the permanent breaker will be built this summer. It was feared that if the work was begun on the ice this late in the season an early flood might catch them unprepared and wreck the structure before cement had time to set. The company has no fear that the spring floods will damage the bridge this year because there will be sufficient time to build the temporary breaker.

HANGS OVER WIFE'S GRAVE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 9.—Despondent and believed demented over the death of his wife whose grave he refused to leave only for brief periods for weeks, William Rosenberg was found hanging to a tree directly over the grave in Pilgrim's Rest cemetery.

A sermon is seldom so short that the congregation will risk an encore.

FOUR DIE IN GEORGIA WRECK

ATLANTA, Ga., March 9.—Four negro passengers were killed and ten persons injured in a wreck on the Central of Georgia railroad early yesterday, three miles from Social Circle. The passenger train crashed head-on into a freight which had overrun a switch.

STRIKE MEET TUESDAY

LONDON, March 9.—Delegates to the Miners' federation convention will meet here next Tuesday and it was reported today that the strikers might modify the demand for a minimum wage scale. The widespread effect of the strike upon the members of other unions, who are out of work because of lack of coal to run the plants at which they are employed, will be thoroughly discussed.

To Mothers—And Others

You can use Bucklen's Arnica Salve to cure children of eczema, rashes, tetter, chafings, scaly and crusted humors, as well as their accidental injuries—cuts, burns, bruises, etc., with perfect safety. Nothing else heals so quickly. For boils, ulcers, old, running or fever sores or piles it has no equal. 25 cts at O. T. Erhart.

ECZEMA

Grain Letter

CHICAGO, March 9.--Taking the government report on the grain reserves on the farms as their basis for their action, bulls took hold of the market today and during the short session sent prices skyward.

Until the market opened, few seemed determined as to the effect of the government's report. Heavy shortage in all grain reserves were shown, however, and the bears in wheat who ignored the report were driven to close with the top prices for the week.

The action in the corn pit was very similar to that in the wheat market. Bears who attacked the market started for cover earlier than did those in the wheat pit. The corn market was in an excellent position for the bulls as it had been practically cleaned of offerings until the bears came out today.

The oats trade started strong, but eased off on short selling. The shorts were caught in a trap, however, and were forced to cover at rapidly rising prices. There was a special demand for July futures.

ORIENTAL RUG SALE At Doerflinger's

Special Sale Personally Selected

Oriental Rugs And Carpets

MARCH 11-16, Inclusive

We take pleasure in announcing that we have again arranged with the New England Furniture & Carpet Company, Minneapolis, for an exhibition and sale of Fine Oriental Rugs. Every one making purchase at the last visit of its representative is more than pleased with his investment, and Mr. Harris, the president of above company, assures us that never in the history of his house, to the present, has it been able to secure such a magnificent assortment and at such attractive prices as the one now to be offered to the Rug lovers of La Crosse. These rugs have all been purchased by us outright from the New England Furniture & Carpet Company, and will be on exhibition and sale each day of week of March 11th.

The New England has, as at former sale, placed at our disposal for the week in question, the services of its Mr. Karageuzian, who will conduct the sale, explain the merits of the various pieces in the collection, authenticity, etc., and, in brief, Mr. Karageuzian, with our guaranty and reputation behind him, will place these Rugs before our patrons, just as all our other merchandise is exploited, namely, on the Strict Merit and Intrinsic Value Qualities.

Although there will be some unusually fine and expensive pieces shown, the more moderate price Rugs have not been forgotten, and you will find some Antique Baluch Saddle Bags at $3.75 each, which are worth at least double. Also some very fine Persian Mossouls, ranging in price from $15.00 to $50.00. Carpet sizes from $150 upwards; in fact, the assortment is a thoroughly well balanced one.

Whether contemplating an immediate purchase or not, you are cordially invited to inspect the collection in question, which you will find located in our Third Floor Carpet Section.

The Sale Commences Monday at Eight O'clock and Continues Until the Closing Hour of Saturday.

TOLEDO MAN HEADS ONE MAN DIVISION

CHICAGO, March 9.—Billy Elwert, the lion of Toledo, is the hero of the American bowling congress tournament here today following his championship work in the individual events yesterday when he knocked down 664 pins and took the lead in the one man division. Elwert's third of Cleveland rolled Elwert a second, scoring 659. Elwert showed wonderful nerve when he was forced to "strike" out from the ninth frame in order to beat the mark set by Thies. Hagerty and Conlisk of the Toledo contingent set the pace for the day in the doubles, finishing with 1159 and going into third place. Over 100 St. Louis bowlers were bled to take the boards in the doubles and singles today, together with rollers from East St. Louis, Elgin, Marion and Milwaukee. Among those who will appear in the individual is "Judge" George B. Howard of Chicago, president-elect of the congress. Howard won out by 95 to 45 in the business meeting last night. Other officials were elected according to the slate arranged by the executive committee.

Would Not Part With Dog.

Not only in England and America, but in Germany, fanciers pay high prices for dogs. At the recent exhibition of dogs at Cassel a Frenchman offered $3,000 for a police dog. The dog belongs to Sergeant Dacker, who refused the tempting offer, observing that his dog should not quit Germany at any price.

Whatever should we do without alienists, who tell us things everybody knows in language that nobody understands?

SPOTLIGHTS

Fresh from its triumph in New York and Chicago, the latest Charles Frohman production, "Passers-By," opens tonight at the La Crosse Theatre. It is reported to be the most human and humorous play seen upon the New York stage this season. C. Haddon Chambers, well remembered as the author of "Captain Swift" and "The Tyranny of Tears," in his latest work has introduced types that are different than are generally seen on the stage. The play may be regarded as a page torn directly out of life. Its creatures are just as human as those one encounters on every street of a large city. The cast of Mr. Frohman has selected will insure a perfect performance, including as it does Richard Bennett, Julian Royce, A. G. Andrews, Ernest Lawford, Louise Rutter, Ivy Hertzog, Katherine Florence, etc.

The Juvenile Bostonians

The cleverest youngsters before the public today are the Juvenile Bostonians who will appear at the La Crosse Theatre on next Wednesday afternoon in that delightful musical affair, "The Rose of Blandeen," a story of romance and adventure in song. The Juvenile Bostonians hardly need an introduction for they are among the best known of the first class attractions and besides they have the distinction of being the only juvenile organization of the kind in this country. The company is composed of young ladies of the sweet sixteen age, the oldest being but eighteen. Of course there are some men connected with it, but they are the managers or the stage crew. The direction is in the hands of Mrs. E. Lang who has been making a success of it for eight years. In fact she organized this company with some of its present members when they were only eight years old. Mrs. Lang has turned out a round half dozen of stars from her company and she says that there are twice that number in The Juveniles this year. These stars-to-be will be heard of within a few years. It seems that the company will make a tour of the east near year including Broadway and if any new talent for stellar honors escapes the eyes of the Broadway managers they are not showing their usual sagacity.

Among the principals of the company who are counted among the future stars are Miss Rose Henry, Miss Doris Canfield, Miss Dixie White, Miss Thom Hellen, Tack Casad, Miss Ethel Stoddard, Billie O'Neill, and Miss Daisy Henry. There is a beauty chorus of 15 girls of the sweet sixteen age. Cosgrove and Lang are the managers. The evening will be "The Dream Girl."

MORAN PUTS TWO OUT OF RUNNING

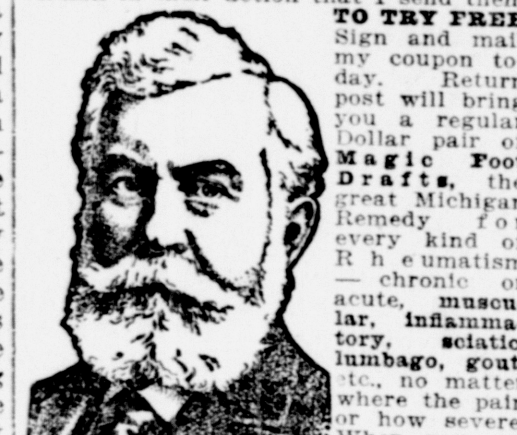

NEW YORK, March 9.—Owen Moran's manager was forced to hunt up a new supply of sparring partners for his protegee today. Two boxers have been so badly mauled by the British lightweight that they left his camp at Lakewood. Moran is determined to come back and in contemplation of a rough bout with Pal Moore at the Fairmont Athletic club next Tuesday night, sails into his sparring partners as though he was fighting for the championship. He declared today that he had never been in such fine condition.

CUBS GIVEN A STIFF WORKOUT

Chance Works Out New Pitchers; Giants Play First Game at Dallas This Afternoon

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 9.—Cadets Nagle and Northrop of the Cub staff were given a workout by Manager Frank Chance today and nine "Cublets" will be chosen to oppose the Pelicans in the first exhibition game of the season Sunday afternoon. Yesterday was a hard day for salary whips. From 9 o'clock until noon Chance and Backstop Jimmy Archer kept the Cub string on the mound dishing up all the "fool stuff" in their repertoires and as a result of the tryout, it is Salt Lake Dressen who will open the argument against the Pelicans Sunday.

DALLAS, Texas, March 9.—Johnny McGraw and the majority of his regulars arrived here early today for an exhibition game this afternoon with the Dallas team of the Texas league. The announcement that several Vets would be in the New York lineup is expected to draw up a big crowd.

WACO, Texas, March 9.—It was a tired bunch of athletes who boarded the "Rattler" last night for Houston and Galveston, where exhibition games were scheduled for today and Sunday.

Manager Callahan put one over on the weather man yesterday by disdaining the sloshy diamond of Katy park and leading his athletes into the spacious cotton palace for a workout. Nineteen pitchers performed before the "come back" boss.

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., March 9.—A soggy, sloppy field and a dismal mist today snowed that the Washington Nationals' jinx was still on the job. The recruits had their first outdoor practice yesterday on a field inches deep in mud. Allen, the big West Virginian pitching recruit, showed up in almost mid-season form.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 9.—Manager Brenahan will start for Jackson, Tenn., with the Cardinals tomorrow night. The squad left West Baden early today, will lay over in St. Louis tomorrow and get down to real business on the Jackson baseball yard Monday.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 9.—The St. Louis Browns had their first real workout of the season here today. Headed by Manager Wallace, the team arrived late yesterday and today donned uniforms. Tomorrow an exhibition game will be played.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 9.—Failure of Catcher Ed Sweeney to report for practice with the Highlanders is causing much worry for Manager Wolverton, but he announced that he would not pay holdout $6,000 for his services.

LEAGUE MEETING DATE IS CHANGED

La Crosse and Eau Claire Are Only Teams Represented at Meeting in Minneapolis

Due to the fact that only La Crosse and Eau Claire were represented at the Minny league meeting which was called by President John A. Elliott for Thursday at Minneapolis, the session was postponed by Mr. Elliott until Monday, March 18, when the directors of the league will meet at Eau Claire.

H. D. Davis of Eau Claire and J. A. Elliott of La Crosse were the only Minny league men at Minneapolis. Conrad of Winona failed to get his notice of the meeting as he was out of the city. Sommers of Superior was also out of the city. Nothing at all was heard from Duluth.

President Elliott announced today that an exhibition game between the Canadian National Bloomer Girls and the La Crosse team has been booked for Sunday, May 5. They will be on their second annual tour of the United States. Some idea of the game they play can be obtained by looking over their 1910 record. They won 134 games out of 162 games played.

The Wausau club wants to purchase Kelley, first baseman, and Wais, catcher, both of whom starred on the local team last year. Reports from the northern town indicate that they expect the two stars to sign Wausau contracts soon. When asked about the sale of the men President Elliott said he had named the terms under which he would consent to sell the men to Wausau but that as yet they had not been sold.

A postal card from Ed Konetehy, the local boy now playing with the St. Louis Cardinals, announced that the Cardinals are having poor training weather in West Baden, Ind., and that the team may have to go south to prepare for the National league pennant race.

According to advice received from Milwaukee, "Bugs" Weidell, the local pitcher, has signed his Brewer contract for the coming season.

PLAY FOR SQUASH TITLE
NEW YORK, March 9.—Dr. Alfred Stillman, the national squash champion, will defend his title this afternoon against John A. Prentiss at the Harvard club.

ZBYSZKO MAHMOUT MATCH ASSURED

CHICAGO, March 9.—Stanislaus Zbyszko and Yussif Mahmout, Gotch's protegee, will settle their long standing dispute at the Coliseum here next month. The match was practically assured today when it manager, had accepted the guarantee of $6,000 offered by the Empire Athletic club for the contest.

No Time to Quit.
A local judge has refused to divorce a couple who lived together for 40 years and then parted. We agree with the court that marriage has no business having a second childhood.—Los Angeles Times.

Separation Sometimes Good.
Being sometimes asunder heightens friendship. The great cause of the frequent quarrels between relations is their being so much together.

SPIRITUAL BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION AGAIN

Tonight at the City Mission on North Third street will be celebrated a second of those unique occasions, termed by Superintendent D. C. Dewey "spiritual birthdays." Tomorrow night's birthday celebration will commemorate the conversion of Martin Hoffman, a prosperous traveling man. Up to a year ago, according to Mr. Dewey, Mr. Hoffman was a wreck from drunkenness. His family, a wife and two little girls, were occasionally destitute, says Mr. Dewey. A year ago tomorrow he was converted.

The "spiritual birthday" is a new departure in La Crosse. The first celebration of the kind was held at the City Mission recently, when Mr. Dewey celebrated his own conversion with special services.
